CORONA UPDATE - EREV SHABBAT BALAK - 25/6/2021

Dear Members & friends.

I thought that my "Corona updates" were a thing of the past.

As of 12.00 noon today, the Health Ministry has instructed that masks be worn in public gatherings indoors and also at large gatherings outdoors.

This means that we ask all those attending services in the shul to wear masks in line with the new instructions.

We all hope that these restrictions will last for a very short time and that shortly we will be again back to normal (whatever the "new normal" means!).

We are planning to start Kiddushim again as of next Shabbat and we will decide in the course of next week how to conduct such events.

The Seuda Shlishit planned for tomorrow, will be conducted with enough space to "social distance" as much as possible.

These sudden restrictions are possibly causing many of you additional stress, but the upside is that there has so far not been an upsurge in seriously ill people, but very light symptoms.

Continue with your day to day activities, continue to exercise and get out and about, continue to think positively, and continue to smile.

Shabbat Shalom and good health.
